ITEMS FROM HARBOR FRONT

Barkentine Arago Encounters a Gale in South Pacific.

Doric Sails—Waialeale from Kauai—Helene Resumes Her Old Route—Rough Weather on Island Coasts.

Kealia mill has shut down for a few days of repairs.

Captain Tullett of the James Makee, who has been acting as pilot for the Waialeale on Kauai, arrived in that vessel this morning.

The J A Cummins this morning brought back a lot of water pipe which was to have been landed at Waimanalo. The bar was too rough to cross.

The Doric carried away 48 Chinese and 17 Japanese steerage passengers for the Orient last night. There was also one box of specie, $1350, on board from this port to Hongkong.

The barkentine Arago, coal laden from Westport, N Z, which arrived last evening and is anchored in the stream, lost her top gallantmast and head of foretopmast in a heavy gale Nov 30.

About as rough weather is now troubling local mariners as has ever been experienced in the history of the islands. It is simply impossible to accomplish anything with the high wind and heavy seas at any of the landings. It is a great hardship, as the harbor is full of vessels waiting for sugar cargoes.

An attempt was made a few weeks ago, says the San Francisco Chronicle, to charter the Mauna Ala to carry lumber to Australia, but arrangements had already been made to send her back to Honolulu. The shippers then tried to buy the bark Alden Bease, but her owners announced that she was not for sale, although $12,000 is said to have been offered for her.

OPPOSITION TO TREATY

Mr. Thurston Writes of Those Who Are Behind It.

Oxnard and Myrick Flooding the Country With Circulars to Farmers' Alliances and Granges.

The following concerning the opposition to the treaty was received in a private letter from L. A. Thurston yesterday and will be of interest:

"The opposition to the treaty is being evidenced most violently as far as the press is concerned in the New York Evening Post, the chief of the mugwump journals; the New York World, which attacks it in a frenzied manner as being a Sugar Trust job, and the San Francisco Call (Spreckels' paper) which has devoted from three to thirteen columns a day to it. The Call cuts very little figure in this part of the country. The only copy of it that I see anywhere is the one that I subscribe for for the purpose of keeping track of what it says. I have not in the past six months seen an extract from it published in the Eastern papers although I see all the principal ones and examine them closely for matter pertaining to Hawaii.

"Henry Oxnard is on the ground and exerting himself to the utmost. Mr. Myrick of the Orange Judd Farmer's publications, the largest journals of the kind in the country, is the treasurer of the Beet Sugar Company at Ames, Nebraska, one of the Oxnard factories, and is devoting all of his journals to downing annexation on the ground that it will be injurious to the beet sugar industry. We have run across circulars which they are mailing from a literary bureau in New York, enclosing prepared editorials to papers all over the country, blank forms of petitions to Congress against annexation, and urging farmers and farm granges, Alliances, individually and collectively, to write to members of Congress urging them to oppose annexation, the names and addresses of all members of Congress being enclosed. With the circulars are enclosed postage stamps to pay postage on these petitions and communications. The probability is that they are sending these out by the hundred thousand, and as in a petition recently sent to the Senate by the Ames Sugar Company protesting against annexation they ask that action on the treaty be postponed until the farmers are heard from.

"We are following the movement closely and obtaining information concerning Oxnard, the beet sugar factories and their connection with the Sugar Trust, which will be published. Several of the farming papers have declared themselves openly in our favor, and one publication here in Washington has offered us the free use of its columns to make answer to the charges contained in the Oxnard and Myrick circulars, which we shall avail ourselves of.

"So far as we have been able to ascertain none of the papers which supported us several years ago have abandoned us now, while quite a number of opponents have modified their tone."

One never tires of pictures. They make the best kind of present for Xmas. King Bros., Hotel street.
